

ABSTRACTDeactivating Emulsions

5 A method of deactivating an allergen involves dispersing into an airspace an allergen deactivant, the deactivant being provided in the form of an oil-in-water emulsion comprising at least 8 wt% deactivant. Preferably the deactivant is dispersed into the airspace as a vapour.
10 Preferably the dispersal is aided by heat applied to the emulsion.